Dear Ivory,

Thank you for your letters of May 8th and 13th. I have wired $40.00 for Khuong. Tuấn's brother came up here yesterday and gave me the money to send you. He will send more as it is needed.

Thanks also for the examination papers. We got quite a scare when we saw all the red marks but were glad to know they were not all mistakes. What's the good of sending you money if Mr. Irwin bags it all? Guess I had better wait till Frank comes south before sending any more. Where does it all go? From now on any money wired to you put to the credit of student account and I will write you details.

I have sent you three registered letters containing questionnaires for fourteen men and will forward more as they come in.

The hairpins, embroidery, etc. also were gratefully received and I will send the money along shortly.

The work is still going along well. Nine more were baptized up at Caolanh three days ago, in a great old thunderstorm.

The atmosphere here is charged with electricity, and I trust Mr. Irwin will soon come down. We have regular attendants at our meetings now, and somehow we feel that we are not as welcome here as we were at Mytho.

I sure feel tired and will be very glad to get a rest. When do you expect Thầy Đình will reach here? We are often awakened at six o'clock in the morning with Xians standing outside our windows discussing when Ông and Bà will be up. Our house is right on the street and unless we keep our back doors locked all the time they walk right into our bedroom. We have them from early morning till late at night, and our popularity is very wearisome.

Ruth Evelyn must be getting to be some girl. She seems strong in spite of the fact that she started off so small.

Best regards to one and all,

Yours in Him,

Carver.
